Providing Meaningful Choices

Are you providing young people with authentic, meaningful choices throughout your program? Does your program reflect the input of the youth involved? Research shows that quality programs incorporate youth input at both activity and organizational levels. This workshop emphasizes the importance of offering real choices and meaningful participation to youth and nurturing youth leadership. This interactive workshop is focused on providing meaningful choice within activities and opportunities for youth input within the youth program itself.

About CASE for Kids

CASE for Kids services improve program quality and equalize access to afterschool, summer and enrichment opportunities – because what happens between school and home matters. To learn more about CASE for Kids services, visit www.afterschoolzone.org

About the presenters

Mary Doyle Glover has worked in the out-of-school time field for more than 25 years. She has extensive experience in program development for arts and education organizations in the greater Houston area. Mary has been on staff at HCDE CASE for Kids for 12 years where her primary focus is helping afterschool providers improve and expand services. She has presented trainings on a variety of topics at local, regional, and national after-school conferences and workshops.
